Environmental Impact Assessment for Projects

12–14 June 2017

INTRODUCTION

Environmental Impact Assessment for developmental projects helps in addressing the environmental aspects in a proactive way during the project life cycle - site selection, construction and operational stages. EIA is to give the environment its due place in the decision making process by clearly evaluating the environmental consequences of the proposed activity before action is taken. The key objectives of good EIA report are:

- ◆ To present to the project proponent and decision makers a clear assessment of potential impacts
- ◆ To ensure that potential environmental problems are foreseen and avoided at an early stage in planning cycle so as to pre-empt problems
- ◆ Early identification and characterization of critical environmental impacts allow the public and the government to form a view about the environmental acceptability of a project and what conditions should apply to mitigate impacts

REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

Recognizing the need for environmental appraisal of certain developmental projects, the Ministry of Environment, Forest & Climate Change, and Government of India had promulgated certain regulatory framework under the provisions of Environmental (Protection) Act 1986.

EIA Notification 2006: Environmental appraisal is made mandatory for certain developmental projects. The listed projects are required to prepare EIA Document and undergo public consultation process.

CRZ Notification 2011: CRZ clearance is mandatory for the projects coming up in CRZ area. These projects are also required to prepare EIA document.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME

- ◆ To enhance the knowledge on EIA report - baseline data, aspects, mitigation planning and additional studies
- ◆ To enhance the knowledge on reviewing the EIA report for its adequacy
