Sustainable Development Goals and Good Governance

March 25 - 29, 2019

Dear Sir/Madam,

“The 17 SDGs are our shared vision of humanity and a social contract between the world’s leaders and the people; they are a to-do list for people and the planet, and a blueprint for success.” Ban Ki-moon.

The post 2015 developmental path was set by this announcement by the UN Secretary General. SDGs represent the culmination of the efforts of the global community for establishing uniform, fair, equitable, inclusive and sustainable development outcomes for the comity of nations. A total of 17 goals and 169 targets were accepted by the global community to further developmental goals that MDGs had initiated in 2000.

The post 2015 developmental targets compared to the MDGs are much wider in scope and more specific with defined and quantified targets and indicators. Overseeing the implementation of SDGs in India NITI Aayog has initiated several processes including Mapping of Ministries & Programmes, Identification of national Indicator Framework, implementing Schemes aligned with SDG targets, establishing outcome-based monitoring, improve implementation of SDGs by improving monitoring and reporting, awareness development, localisation of SDGs, documentation /dissemination of best practices and capacity building, etc.

A number of States also have begun several measures to integrate SDGs within the policy framework. Implementation of SDGs in the initial stages, raises queries on varied issues. Implementation arrangements, monitoring and evaluation, data gaps, financing of SDGs on 17 different goals is a mammoth task. This Programme on Sustainable Development Goals and Good Governance is designed to discuss the key gaps and interventions needed in few select SDGs to move them forward. Moreover, horizontal issues like data availability, monitoring and evaluation, financing SDG implementation etc., are significant that need elaboration. Departmental officials are struggling to identify accepted monitoring methodology and the contours of implementing policies and collecting data on almost 100 accepted indicators. The programme will orient and familiarise participants to significant current issues in SDGs for better implementation. It intends to expose participants to the key challenges, alternatives and policy options initiated by varied states in its implementation.

Taking into account the significance of the issue in Indian context, focus of the programme will be on topics like Poverty Eradication, Health and Education, Water & Sanitation, Sustainable Cities and Communities, Employment and Economic Growth that have a direct impact on scope, achievement and quality of development in the country.

The Administrative Staff College of India, (ASCI, <http://www.asci.org.in>) a self-supporting, public-purpose institution of national importance has provided advisory and technical assistance to National and State governments on Policy matters. ASCI has been the chosen partner of the Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances (DARPG), and offered technical assistance to “Prime Minister’s Award for Excellence in Public Administration” scheme of the Department for eight successive years. ASCI, because of its good chemistry and synergy of working with the department has also been a replication-facilitator of DARPG in handholding the States / UTs to replicate award-winning initiatives.

The enclosed brochure contains details about the programme and highlights its value. We welcome nominations from your organization for the proposed programme. Copies of the enclosed nomination forms may be used for additional nominations.

Please get in touch with us for any further information / clarification (email: nirmalya@asci.org.in / anjum.h@asci.org.in). We thank you and look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Nirmalya Bagchi

Programme Overview

The scope and reach of governance has expanded exponentially, linking the local with the global in all areas and at all stages. The post 2015 Developmental agenda of Sustainable Development Goals represents the interlinking of the regional with the global, where globally nations have committed to achievement of set identified goals and targets that will usher overall development of communities. Local, Regional, National and international agenda have coalesced in SDGs even as nations are working towards achieving and meeting the targets that will herald development on varied issues.

Sustainable Development Goals adopted in 2015 after a number of discussions and debates link the nations by providing a common framework for all countries, to pursue better paths to development. Implementing 17 goals, 169 agreed targets, and 232 officially negotiated indicators (international) and 100 (national), shows that SDGs are ambitious and can also be unwieldy.

It goes without saying that delivering on the SDGs requires working across sectors. Grappling with the demands of delivering on this ambitious new agenda numerous actions and processes have been initiated to herald timely achievement of set goals and targets.

Planning – the fundamental building block for implementation, instituting different types of institutional arrangements and mechanisms for coordination in implementation; Financing strategies – strengthening of domestic resource mobilization and management, encouraging private sector investments, and systematic costing for prioritization for maximizing results; Building Partnerships – with Civil society and nongovernment organizations (to bring challenging development issues into policy debates) Universities and other knowledge institutions (for expertise and knowledge in problem solving) and Development partners for providing bridges between countries; and Data: Strengthening monitoring capacity and access to relevant, reliable, and timely data are core processes for successful SDG implementation.

NITI Aayog has been appointed as the nodal body to monitor, coordinate and ensure implementation of the globally accepted Sustainable Development Goals in India. Overseeing the implementation of SDGs in India NITI Aayog has initiated several processes including Mapping of Ministries & Programmes, establishing outcome-based monitoring and identification of outcome Indicators on Central Ministries, Centrally Sponsored/Central Sector Schemes & other government initiatives, Identification of national Indicator Framework, implementing Schemes aligned with SDG targets, improve implementation of SDGs by improving monitoring and reporting, awareness development, localisation of SDGs, documentation /dissemination of best practices and capacity building, etc. State governments have also initiated several measures to integrate SDGs within the policy framework.

This programme on Sustainable Development Goals and Good Governance exposes officials the varied elements, options, alternatives, action points and activities on SDGs. The programme is intended to shore-up capacities of officials in activities like planning, strategizing, implementing and attaining SDGs. With most state governments initialising SDG implementation, the programme will serve as a guide to support and provide insights into the steps needed to be taken to take SDGs from goals towards action
