PEAK EFFECTIVE PERFORMANCE (PEP) TRAINING is a programme designed exclusively for the corporate sector and aims at transformation of professionals at a deep core level enabling them to deliver peak effective performance.

It is an elaborate journey based programme spread over 12 monthly sessions of 1 or 2 days each. The intervening period between two consecutive sessions is used for content reinforcement through videos, articles and applied learning programme (ALP) activity. The content of the programme impacts both the character (inner world) and the competence (outer world) of the participants deeply. This growth is further sustained through character and competency club activities during quarterly review meetings. These meetings also involve a session on "Leader Speak" where in an industry leader shares his/her personal growth trajectory and mentors the group.

The participants, at the end of the programme will become more effective and efficient by learning to manage their health, emotions, thoughts and attitudes for managing the self efficiently and also learn skills to manage relationships and handle functional responsibilities at their workplace effectively. In short, an inner winner and an outer winner!

The programme is facilitated by Mr. Ramesh Partani, a dynamic leader and Managing Director of a listed public limited company in India, manufacturing and marketing technology products. With extensive experience in both business and leadership training with ASCI, Mr. Partani brings a unique blend of insight and vibrancy to his sessions. Known for his captivating expression and ability to weave real-life anecdotes into powerful learning moments, Mr. Partani fosters individual growth while driving organizational success. His sessions are not only informative but also engaging, filled with games, anecdotes, and humor to ensure an enriching experience for participants.
