Eight years back, ASCI has also engaged with the Asian Development Bank, and we have been conducting training programmes on ADB Procurement Procedures, FIDIC Contracts and so on since then. Government of Sri Lanka also utilized our services to train their senior medical professionals and other officers in the Ministry of Finance in the domain of Public Procurement. In parallel, we have also been conducting training programmes on Public Procurement Principles and GeM, Project and Contract Management, Legal Aspects of Contract Management, ADR Mechanism for the Civil Court System, and so on for various government entities and Public Sector Enterprises.

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

Public Procurement is a mechanism by which Government Departments and Public Sector Enterprises procure goods, capital equipment and supplies and arrange for their distribution, or award contracts for the construction of civil and related works utilizing public funds and resources in a fair and transparent manner.

Public Procurement plays an important role in the economy of any country. Its importance stems in budget formulation and in achieving Value for Money through optimized resource application. It also plays a pivotal role in achieving and maintaining aggregate fiscal discipline through robust process control systems.

Various Ministries, Departments, and their subordinate offices, local urban bodies, Public Sector Enterprises, and other Government (including autonomous) bodies spend a sizeable amount of their budget on procurement of goods, works and services to discharge the duties and responsibilities assigned to them. To ensure that these procurements are made in a uniform, systematic, efficient, and cost-effective manner and also to ensure that there is fair and equitable treatment of suppliers, governments prescribe various statutory guidelines, provisions, rules, financial, vigilance, security, safety, counter-trade, and other regulations from time to time. It is imperative that the executives / officers engaged in procurement activities possess thorough knowledge of all the relevant rules, regulations, and procedures of public procurement to discharge their functions and duties effectively.
