The World Bank is funding around 120 billion US dollars every year globally for undertaking various developmental projects. The procurement function plays an important role in completing the project on time, within the budgeted cost and to a desired level of quality to accomplish 'Best value for the Money'.

The Administrative Staff College of India (ASCI) with technical support of the World Bank, has conducted 85 Programmes on Procurement Management according to the procurement policies of the World Bank since 1995. A total of 4408 senior officials from over 55 countries have already attended the programme. Further, projects funded by the World Bank and its affiliates have repeatedly sent their officials along with the Bank Staff to these programmes.

The World Bank has introduced the current Procurement Policy and Regulations effective from July 2016, which are applicable for all the projects governed by Investment Project Financing (IPF) instrument. This Procurement Policy presented a major shift in conducting procurement under Bank financed projects. Core principles of procurement in Bank funded projects have been expanded to include the principles of Value for Money, Integrity and Fit for Purpose in addition to Economy, Efficiency, Transparency and Fairness.

This training programme will cover the main features of the Procurement Policy and Regulations including detailed coverage of various procurement and consultant hiring procedures approved selection methods / market approaches, the PPSD preparation, STEP and associated RFPs/RFBs/procurement documents.

The World Bank encourages the dissemination of its Procurement Regulations and usage of its standard procurement documents in its funded projects. Project Management Units/Agencies may sponsor participants using funds from technical assistance or capacity building components under their projects. Interested officials are encouraged to discuss with their Project Directors for further details. To enhance the learning value of the programme, the design of the programme has been made interactive through a good mix of case studies and experience sharing. Highly well known accredited trainers and specialists of The World Bank with rich experience will conduct sessions, case studies and exercises.

We suggest that you preferably nominate three or more officials from your project or organisation to participate in the programme to avail 10% discount on the fee. There is an additional discount of 10% in the programme fee for women participants.

INTRODUCTION

'Procurement' refers to the process of engaging contractors, suppliers and consultants for the construction of various works, facilities or supply of goods / equipment or providing related services required for development projects. The procurement function involves substantial investments that are often funded from loans or credits / grants provided by International Financial Institutions (IFIs) such as the World Bank, Asian Development Bank, African Development Bank, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, etc.

This Programme explores, explains and clarifies the World Bank's 2016 Procurement Framework (PF) in detail.

According to the International Financial Institutions, the term 'Procurement' is applied broadly to the acquisition or purchase of works, goods, non-consulting services, and consultancy/advisory services of a project.

The World Bank and the multi-lateral agencies have been providing loans, credits and grants for various developmental projects in countries all over the world. The deployment plans for procurement functions of implementing agencies are often confronted with problems and delays due to lack of trained personnel. The trained officials, if available, can cope with and perform complex national and international procurement operations at every stage of the project in accordance with the Procurement Procedures of the funding agency. This has been identified as one of the major reasons for the delay in award of contracts, management of contracts and consequential time and cost over runs in many projects all over the world.

Over the last 30 years, the Administrative Staff College of India has been conducting this Programme on a self-sustaining basis, with technical support of the World Bank. The aim of the Programme is to build capacities for better understanding of the underlying core principles of the World Bank's 2016 Procurement Framework as applicable to various stages of the project from the planning to final completion and acceptance. The Programme provides clarity on principles and procedures to be followed by the World Bank funded projects, based on the 2016 Procurement Framework of the Bank, along with the latest updates.

The Programme addresses the main features of 2016 procurement framework regulations, approved selection methods and market approaches for procurement of goods, civil works and non-consulting services, and main features of selection documents for consultants and describes the relevant procedures for soliciting competitive bids and the subsequent processes for bid / proposal evaluation, award of contract and implementation of contract agreements.

OBJECTIVES

At the end of the Programme, the participants will be able to competently and effectively strategize, plan and carry out the procurement activities in accordance with the Procurement Framework/Regulations of July 2016 (as revised from time to time) and associated procurement documents.

PARTICIPANTS

The Programme is primarily aimed at meeting the knowledge needs of officials working in the World Bank funded projects under various Central Ministries, State Governments and Public Sector Undertakings. This Programme extensively deals with the public procurement procedures and hence would be useful for all senior officials working in projects, procurement, contract and implementation functions with goods and equipment suppliers, civil works contractors and consultancy firms. The Programme will be delivered in English. The Participants are expected to have working knowledge of English.

Organisational Sponsorship is Essential.
